

Your name: Tony Guy
Your institution: ECSU

1. Tell us a little bit about yourself, including what you are studying.
I am Tony Guy. I am from Charleston, South Carolina. I enjoy reading and playing video games. I am a sophomore in college studying Computer Science.
2. Where did your internship take place, and who did you work with?
I did my internship at Indiana University virtually and I worked with Dr. James A Glazier and Dr. Geoffrey Fox. I've also worked with student mentors Joshua Brendan and Juliano Ferrari Gianlupi on simulation runs for covid-19.
3. What are some things that you learned as a result of this internship?
I've learned the immune response to covid-19 and different parameters and parts of the immune system that helps fight off viral infections.
4. Do you see yourself engaging with SGCI again in the future? Perhaps when you begin your career?
I most definitely vision myself working with SGCI and Indiana University if the opportunity arises.

Anything else to add about your internship experience?

This is my first summer REU, and I've enjoyed my experience. James and the mentors were pretty flexible with the scheduling.
